borrin Andrews, speaking individual ly and not as the charmon of the Re-publican recritorial committee, is very strongly opposed to the suggestion that the committees of the party undertake to deal with any patronage. Mr. An drews points out that this question was Mr. Ansettled at the last Republican rales convention, at which action was taken that makes any attempt on the part of any committee to deal with party patronage the Republican party of the Territory rregular and opposed to the best sentiment of the party.

Definitely Settled

"The question as to whether the Republican party in this Territory should as an organization interfere in the matter of alpointments made by county and territorial officials or even suggest names for such appointments suggest names for such appointments was definitely settled at the convention held in Honolulu on the twenty-fourth of Pebruary, 1974, for the purpose of revising the rules and regulations of the Republican party of the Territory of Hawaii," said Mr. Andrews. All Precincts Represented

'This convention was made up of delegates specially elected from every precinct for the purpose of revising the rules and regulations of the Republican party in this Territory in order to meet the new conditions brought about by the new primary law and to bring the party in touch with the people and avoid those matters which had caused friction and disorganization in the past.

'One of the important matters which has always been a source of unpleasantness and of disorganization was the

ond, to the disappointment and consequest bitterness of the many applicants who were not named for office; and, third, to a feeling mining the public that it was an attempt, by the Reputficun county organization to usurp the power of the elected officials and fill the county positions with worthless

Centering Responsibility

"The convention of Pebruary 24 be-lieve that the time had come to sweep away this so-called appointive power from the local committees and place the responsibility for every appoint-ment where it belonged, in the hands of duly elected or appointed officials. I quote from the report of the committee charge of the amendments to the

The executive committee of the territorial central committee provides that 'Every applicant or candidate for appointment to office under the Territory shall secure the indorsement of a majority of the executive committee of the previnct club to which he belongs, and of the territorial central committee.' We contend that it is nelf-evident that the appointive power rests in the department hemi, and that the department hemis responsible for the efficient actualistic that the rules of all portions of sections giving to either the territorial executive committee or the county committee anything or the county committee anything to do with the distribution of patronage or appointments to of-

"The tourists are coming," he sings by way of answering the many questions that are asked each day at the committee's rooms.

"When will the tourist season open? What is helding it back? And will there he as big a 'flight' this year as last?'

By singing his song Jordan answers all these questions musically—as his music goes—though perhaps not very specifically.

RIG BURINESS EXPECTED

He leaves the specific or detailed answers to Secretary H. P. Wood of the committee, who can show you in celd and almost indisputable figures that this will be a big tourist year for Hawali—the biggest, perhaps, in the history of the Islands.

While possibly a triffe late in starting, it will last a good deal longer than While possibly a trille late in assisting, it will have a good deal longer than usual after starting, he believes.

And furthermore, today marks, the start of the season!

The steamer Matsonia, arriving this morning, will discharge the first list of winter tourists here, says Mr. Wood. It will register the opening of the tourist season, and hereafter all ships arriving here will be well-filled with persons coming to "the samahine of Hawsii."

HEASONS FOR THE DELAY

There may be several considerations to explain the little delay in the opening of the season, and this delay, it appears, has given many to think that Hawaii would be without its usual crowds of viritors this year. That such fears are unfounded is shown by the heavy steamship bookings for here from sow on, and by the Hawaii advertising campaign started, at the instigation of Mr. Wood, by the Eastern railroads.

For months now, practically all reservations on Hawaii-bound steamers are taken, and in many cases the waiting list is long.

"TOURISTS ARE COMING"

So Sidney Jordan doubtless is quite truthful when he sings, "The tourists are coming—horray horray!"
